

OBENCHAIN HERD AWARDED DOUBLE CHAMPIONSHIP

Two grand championships fell to Silas Obenchain at the county fair yesterday, his Shorthorn bull, Grand Sultan winning a grand championship, while Seaforth Queen, 3rd, took grand championship for cows.

The fine exhibition of milking Shorthorns owned by C. E. Craig of Merrill were not shown in a class by themselves, but were intermingled with the beef displays due to a lack of full classification of this variety. The herd drew much attention as they were headed by a prize winner of the Foothill's herds, which took second prize in its class a year ago at the state fair. The Foothill's herd is one of the finest herds on the Pacific coast, it is said.

Dairy cattle, sheep, hogs and horses will be judged today. The beef cattle awards follow:

Old Ironsides to Change Anchorage

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The famous frigate Constitution, now at the navy yard, will be transferred to Pleasure Bay off the South Boston shore, where it will be more accessible to visitors, if plans now being made by Rear Admiral Gleaves, commandant of the First Naval district, and the chamber of commerce are approved. The Constitution has been at the Boston navy yard for 15 years. Officials estimate that 60,000 persons have gone aboard during that time. The number would be greater, it is believed, if the vessel was more centrally located.

The Constitution was built at Hart's shipyard here, now Constitution wharf, 122 years ago. She was refitted at the navy yard in 1907.
